

Australian Sonographer Accreditation Registry (ASAR)

Policy & Procedure 5 - Assessing an Application for Sonography Course Accreditation

1. Preamble

ASAR's objective is to promote high standards of medical sonography in Australia which includes setting uniform, minimum standards of Sonographer education by assessing and accrediting courses in all disciplines of sonography.

This policy details the procedures by which the ASAR Course Assessment Committee determines if a course submitted for accreditation or reaccreditation meets the eight Standards for the Accreditation of Sonographer Courses (SACS).

2. Policy Principles

ASAR is committed to ensuring that all accredited Sonographer courses meet the eight Standards for the Accreditation of Sonographer Courses (SASC). In order to achieve this, the application procedures must be conducted in accordance with the accreditation principles identified below.

3. Accreditation Principles

The accreditation principles underpinning the approach to accreditation are:

Legitimacy

The accreditation procedure must be legitimate and acceptable to stakeholders. Such legitimacy includes impartiality in relation to particular stakeholder groups; and appropriate respect for the academic autonomy of course providers. The accreditation procedure must also be consistent with current legislation and guidelines.

Validity

The accreditation procedure must be valid in that the procedures are appropriate for assessing the determination of criteria. These criteria must be evidence-based and explicitly related to the necessary graduate competency outcomes and other specified purposes of the accreditation procedure. The period and status of accreditation must be appropriate to the nature of the programs and developments in the professional field.

Efficiency

The accreditation procedure must cover what is necessary and sufficient and not be unnecessarily burdensome for course providers, Course Assessment Committee members or other participants.

Accountability & Transparency

The accreditation procedure and its outcomes should also be transparent to stakeholders and the public as long as appropriate confidentiality and protection of privacy is maintained.

Policy & Procedure 5 - Assessing an Application for Sonography Course Accreditation

Procedural fairness

The accreditation Procedure must meet the principles of procedural fairness.

Quality and improvement

The accreditation procedures and criteria should facilitate the development of programs of the highest academic and professional quality and facilitate the continuous improvement of programs over the period for which they are accredited.

Ongoing cycle of review

The accreditation procedures must undergo an ongoing cycle of review to maintain consistency with these principles and for ongoing improvement.

Australian Sonographer Accreditation Registry (ASAR)

Policy & Procedure 5 - Assessing an Application for Sonography Course Accreditation

This tool will also help new Course Assessors ensure that no key areas are missed, especially in a complex or lengthy application.

8.1. The SASC Evaluation Tool

The SASC Evaluation Tool allows the assessor to clearly identify if and how well the course meets the SASC by assessing the evidence provided against the quality considerations for each of the criteria of the 8 standards. It also provides a section for recording the evidence provided to support the evaluation of whether the course is compliant or non-compliant.

8.2. Formulating the Preliminary Review Findings

These findings are formulated by identifying:

- a. the expected outcomes – as described in each criteria of the standard;
- b. what was seen – a description of the evidence collected against the appropriate criteria;
- c. identification of any gaps – a description of any rectification / further evidence that is required before submission of a recommendation to the Board

9. The SASC Evaluation Report

The SASC Evaluation Report outlines the ASAR Course Assessment Committee's findings, which it has reached through its interpretation of the specific evidence it has gathered against the SASC. These reports:

1. attempt to address all relevant areas, but without excessive detail or presuming to be exhaustive;
2. note both commendable practices and areas for improvement;
3. do not comment on individual people (positively or negatively);
4. do not contain statements that cannot be substantiated. Hence, if the Committee has formed the view that comment on a particular matter needs to be made, it has firm evidence on which to base its comment.

9.1. Content and Format

All SASC Evaluation Reports contain a summary of findings and more detailed comments in the body of the report.

The format of the report is to be based on the SASC Evaluation Report Template.

9.2. Writing the Evaluation Report

The writing of the evaluation report is the responsibility of the Course Lead Assessor, in consultation with the other Committee members. An iterative procedure is followed, allowing all committee members to submit their individual review and provide comments on the final draft as desired.

Australian Sonographer Accreditation Registry (ASAR)

Policy & Procedure 5 - Assessing an Application for Sonography Course Accreditation

When the Committee is satisfied with the report, it is forwarded to the ASAR Secretariat for submission to the Board in conjunction with a Brief regarding the applicant's history and ASAR Course Assessment Committee recommendations.

Once the Board has reviewed the recommendation the Report is to be amended by the Lead Course Assessor to reflect the Board's input, if any.

9.3. The Evaluation Observations

The Evaluation Observations provide a description of the findings of the evaluation and are based on evidence recorded in the evaluation tool. The observations must provide a succinct summary of the reasons for the finding of compliance or non-compliance. Findings of non-compliance must be recorded at criteria level to support the evaluation conclusion.

9.4. Evaluation conclusion

The evaluation conclusion (reported at Standard level) is a summary of evidence of compliance or non-compliance with each Standard. In the case of non-compliance, the audit conclusion will also describe the action required to meet the relevant Standards without recommending specific strategies.
