Australian Sonographer
Accreditation Registry

ASAR Position on Sonographer Regulation

ASAR's purpose is to promote high standards of medical sonography in Australia.

This purpose is core to the organisation's role and functions in support of the medical sonography profession.

ASAR is aware of discussions within the profession regarding the issue of formal regulation of sonographers through the Medical Radiation Practice Board of Australia (MRPBA).

ASAR is not an advocacy organisation and does not take a position on such professional debates.

In accordance with its purpose, ASAR is supportive in principle of any initiative that can be demonstrated as contributing to high standards of medical sonography in Australia.

ASAR is committed to providing advice and information as held by the organisation, within the parameters of its purpose, to government and statutory bodies and professional and scientific societies involved in the investigation and implementation of such initiatives.
